INDICTED FIRMS CANNOT COMPETE

American Packers Are Hard Hit by England.

NOT TO BID ON ARMY SUPPLIES

Counsel for Armour & Company of Chicago Issues Statement Admitting Exclusion and Bewailing Large Lose of Profitable Trade.

London, Dec. 16.—The British government has decided to exclude all the American meat packers against whom prosecutions have been instituted in the United States from tendering contracts for the supply of meat for the British army and navy, pending the settlement of the suits.

An official of the war office told the New York Sun correspondent that it was the custom of the department not to accept tenders from English contractors against whom proceedings were pending or whose reputation was questionable. He added that he supposed it was felt that when the government of the United States secured the indictment of certain packers it was only right for the British war office not to accept bids from these concerns until their cases had been settled.

ACTION CAUSES HEAVY LOSS

Counsel for Armour & Co. Says It Means Difference of Millions.

Chicago, Dec. 16.—News of the action of the British government provoked only meager comment from the Chicago packing firms whose business is hit by the exclusion of American products.

Alfred Urion, of counsel for Armour & Co., after a conference with the company's officials, made the following statement:

"The barring of our products by Great Britain as stated in the dispatches unfortunately is true. I am sorry that Great Britain saw fit to take such action because by it that government cut off our largest market for canned meats which amounted to millions of pounds annually. There is thus lost a market for those products which cannot be made up in any way. There is no demand in this country which will equalize the loss of the companies affected. The loss seems greater for the reason that every pound of canned meat represents two pounds of fresh meat."

DIES TO SAVE CHILDREN

Hammond, Ind., Crossing Tender Crushed as He Rescues Tots.

Hammond, Ind., Dec. 16.—Nicholas Foster, an aged crossing tender for the Erie railroad here, saved three lives, but lost his own. Before dying he said: "It was my duty; it was worth it."

Three little children from the Wallace school kindergarten were approaching the crossing when the Erie New York-Chicago flyer appeared. Foster had put his gates down, but the children started on the tracks and as Foster yelled to them they seemed bewildered. He dragged two of them away. The third he had to shove. It fell on the other side of the tracks and Foster under the engine.

CLEW TO BUEHLER GIRL

Watch Found in Racine Believed that of Missing Child.

Racine, Wis., Dec. 16.—A watch found near the station of the Chicago and Milwaukee Electric Railway here is believed to have belonged to Violet Buehler, the pretty fifteen-year-old daughter of Mrs. Annia Buehler, proprietor of a hotel and restaurant at 602 South State street, who disappeared on Nov. 25 and has been found.

The girl came here from Chicago to attend a party and after arriving at the depot here, was never seen again. The police believe that she was either robbed and murdered or that she was coaxed away by some woman.

SALE OF SEAL PELTS

United States Realizes Average of $35 the Pelt.

London, Dec. 16.—A sale of seal pelts by the United States government, at which 12,000 pelts from the Pribyloff Islands in the Bering sea were disposed of, brought $508,385.

The average price was above $35 the pelt, against an average of $29.25 the pelt for the pelagie catch of 12,700.

Ask Charity of Mrs. Harriman.

New York, Dec. 16.—The letters received by Mrs. E. H. Harriman, asking for help, since the death of her husband have now reached a total of 6,000, with a total of $120,000,000 as the amount of the money asked for.

STATE TO BE SHORT $152,000

Will Begin New Year with Deficit, Intead of Even, as Was Expected.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 16. — Because of an under-estimate as to the probable deficit in the general fund of the state on Jan. 1, 1912, the state's financial account will show a shortage on Jan. 1 of about $152,000 instead of a balance, as was expected last winter.

Governor Osborn was informed of the true condition in a letter from State Accountant Fred Z. Hamilton, who states that while he estimated last February that the amount needed to square the state's shortage would be $561,000, it has since developed that $650,000 was needed and that other drains have developed which increase the amount agreed upon by Governor Osborn and the legislature with which to balance the account.

The situation indicates that state expenditures have been increasing faster than was appreciated and the wiping out of the deficit which has existed ever since the primary school money was separated from other state moneys, appears to be a more difficult task than expected.

MAY SOON INCORPORATE

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS SOCIETY COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO FRAME ARTICLES.

The question of incorporation was considered Friday evening by the Ypsilanti Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis at their meeting in the Ladies' Library building. A board of five trustees accordingly becomes a necessity and five were appointed. Until it is ascertained whether these five will act, their names will not be announced.

It was voted to rent a film dealing with some aspect of public health and have it shown at Mr. Reader's vaudette. There were eight persons at the meeting.

BIG GIFT ENABLES CITY TO PLACE CEMETERY GATES

It is very gratifying to learn that Ypsilanti's beautiful Highland cemetery is to be further adorned next spring by the gift from Mrs. Lois Leetch of beautiful gates. It is considerably over a year ago that Mrs. Leetch signified her desire to erect gates which would make fittingly impressive and beautiful the entrance to a spot where generous men and women have aided nature in creating beauty. Plans have been carefully and deliberately considered, but finally an acceptable design has been submitted by a Detroit architect and the spring will witness the completion of the work. Mrs. Leetch has added to her original gift of a thousand enough to cover the expense of securing a massive and truly handsome structure. Field stone will be used effectively in the gateway.

This is not the only instance of Mrs. Leetch's generosity being expressed along lines of public interest. Herself an Eastern Star and her late husband a mason, Mrs. Leetch showed her interest most substantially while the Masonic Temple was building by donating a thousand dollars toward that object.

KIMMEL HURT IN WRECK

Niles, Mich., Claimant May Die As Result of Railway Accident.

Marion, Ind., Dec. 16. — George A. Kimmel of Niles, Mich., of insurance note, while returning to Marion at night after having been in Chicago in conference with Edwar O'Brien, an attorney for the life insurance company was seriously injured when a Chesapeake and Ohio train was wrecked near Converse, twelve miles west of Marion.

Kimmel expected to remain here until early in January, when the suit against the insurance company comes to trial in St. Louis. Kimmel had intended to testify that he is not dead, but as a result of the wreck the company may yet be required to pay the $25,000 insurance on his life. Kimmel received serious internal injuries. Several of his ribs and his knee cap were fractured.

Father and Son Convicted.

Allegan, Mich., Dec. 16.—The trial of a law suit which created great interest and was attended by probably as many people as any hereabouts since the celebrated Grange store case six years ago stirred up the people of southwestern Allegan county, was that of John and Royal Reeder, father and son, charged with assaulting George Barnes and his son in a cornfield, brought on by a dispute over the dividing of the shares. They were found guilty and the father was sentenced to spend twenty-five days in jail and pay a fine of $25 and $40 cotss, and the son fined $35 and $40 costs.

SENTIMENTS OF THE BROTHERHOOD ARE EXPRESSED

"The boys and girls of the present are to be the church of the future," said Rev. C. M. Creighton Thursday evening, addressing the Presbyterian Brotherhood for the last time during his pastorate. While he spoke in a commendatory way of a number of enterprises which the Brotherhood might profitably launch and which the Men and Religion Forward Movement stood for, it was the necessity of attracting and holding the boys of the church that he most emphasized. In concluding Mr. Creighton spoke with deep appreciation of the splendid treatment he had been accorded by the Ypsilanti church.

W. B. Arbaugh and Milton H. Webb had been appointed a committee to draw up resolutions regarding the departure of Mr. Creighton. They chose however, to express themselves by means of a personal letter, and this, upon being read, was adopted as an expression of the sentiment of the Brotherhood, and ordered published. It reads as follows:

Ypsilanti, Mich., Dec. 14, 1911

Rev. C. M. Creighton,
Ypsilanti, Mich.

Dear Friend and Brother—We desire to express to you at this time our sincere regret for the circumstances of impaired health that makes necessary the termination of your pastorate of this church. We believe that by your departure not only is the church losing an earnest and devoted pastor, but that each of us individually is losing an interested personal friend. The largeness of your interest in, and your encouragement of, every activity making for righteousness in the community has given to those associated with you a new vision of the church of Christ and a better appreciation of the obligations of membership therein. We cannot soon, or ever, forget the precepts of your teaching or the clear calls to duty that each week gave fresh inspiration for the performance of our allotted tasks.

As representing the men of the church, we gratefully acknowledge the high type of leadership that you have unostentatiously manifested in all your relations with us during the four years of your stay in our midst. Be assured that you leave this body of men united in a feeling of loyalty to the faith they profess and with a keener sense of the meaning of Christian service.

Our prayer is that you may have complete restoration to health and strength and that there may be opened up to you greater opportunities for service in the ranks of our Master and King.

Sincerely yours,
W. B. ARBAUGH,
M. H. WEBB.

Refreshments were served. The Brotherhood will meet next on January 19.

HINES AGAIN TESTIFIES

Lumberman Is Belligerent before Lorimer Investigators.

Forces Senate Committee's Lawyer to Abandon Search into a Chicago Meeting.

Washington, Dec. 16.—Edward Hines, millionaire Chicago lumberman, who is said to have helped "put Senator Lorimer over" at Springfield, was again a witness before the senate investigating committee, but he did not remain long on the stand. He had been recalled by the committee's counsel for further question as to what happened in a private room of the Union League club in Chicago March 27, 1909.

Mr. Hines was belligerent. When he did not like a question, he demanded that it be stricken from the record. He is alleged to have met other men at the club to help raise a $100,000 fund to insure Lorimer's election.

Hines and Elbridge Hanecy, Mr Lorimer's counsel, combatted the committee's proposed line of inquiry on technical grounds. The committee's attorneys finally abandoned the effort. They announced, however, that they would call Mr. Hines a third time after they investigated "certain information" in their possession.

"Manny" Abrahams of Chicago, "bellwether" of the Lee O'Neill Browne Democrats in the legislature at Springfield, was recalled and put through a lively cross-examination by the committee attorneys. He admitted that he made up his mind to vote for Lorimer when he learned that Browne and other Democrats were going to do the same.

Senator Jones asked if he had received any money for his vote for Lorimer. Abrahams said he had not.

CHORUS GIRLS ACQUITTED

Lillian Graham and Ethel Conrad Shot Stokes in Self-Defense.

New York, Dec. 16.—Lillian Graham and Ethel Conrad were acquitted of the charge of attempting to kill W. E. D. Stokes. The jury which freed the chorus girls believed the story that they shot Stokes in self-defense. It was not impressed by Stokes' account of the gun play and the circumstances that led up to the shooting. Persons who talked to the jurymen said that it was evident that they considered Stokes, as well as the chorus girls on trial. The verdict surprised both sides.

SEARCH FOR SOUTH POLE

Vessel Sails from New Zealand to Bring Back Explorer Scott.

Christ Church, N. Z., Dec. 16.—Captain Robert Scott's exploring ship, the Terra Nova, sailed for the Antarctic. She is going to bring back Captain Scott, who is seeking the south pole. Lieutenant Pennell, who was in command of the Terra Nova when she returned to New Zealand last June, said that Captain Scott was to take a route different from that of Amundsen, who was going by way of the Beardmore glacier.

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 16.—With 1,400 prisoners under close guard the Trenton fire department extinguished a blaze in the mat shop of the New Jersey state prison here. The fire started in a rubbish box and its origin is unknown.

Big Gathering of Maccabees.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 16.—Maccabees of northern Indiana and southern Michigan have arranged for a meeting in South Bend Jan. 23, from 1,500 to 8,000 members being expected.

STUDENTS AND FACULTY HOLD A CONFERENCE

Nearly one hundred students, together with the faculty, gathered at Cleary College Friday evening. It had been planned to consider in a final way the constitution and bylaws of the recently projected Cleary Fellowship. However, since any action taken will be of a distinctly permanent character, Willard German, chairman of the committee on constitution and bylaws, reported that he preferred to wait until the whole matter was perfected before rendering a report and recommendations.

This concern disposed of, the evening was spent very happily under the auspices of the Fellowship to be, and it was evident to all that an organization, with a mission such as the Fellowship's is to be, would fill a real need in college life.

On Friday evening, January 5, a reception will be given for the new students who enter in numbers at this time of the year. At this time also the organization of the Cleary Fellowship will doubtless be completed.

HELD IN POISON CASE

MacGregor Held for Trial in Michigan for Sparling Death.

Bad Axe, Mich., Dec. 16.—Dr. R. A. MacGregor, after a preliminary examination lasting several days, was held for the circuit court on a charge of murder in the first degree in the Sparling poison case. Bail was denied him.

A break between Mrs. John Wesley Sparling and Dr. MacGregor, who is charged with the murder of Cyril Sparling, appeared to have come at Dr MacGregor's preliminary hearing, when Sheriff McAuley on the stand declared that Dr. MacGregor had asked him to compel Mrs. Sparling to confess the poisoning of members of her family.

Mrs. Sparling, widow of John Wesley Sparling, who died first, and mother of the three dead boys whose deaths are being investigated, intimated in an interview that her faith in Dr. MacGregor remained unshaken.

SHOOTS FATHER IN QUARREL

John Trowbridge Is Now In Ionia County Jail as Result of Fracas.

Ionia, Mich., Dec. 16.—In a quarrel over money matters, John Trowbridge shot his father, William Trowbridge, in the face, inflicting a wound which it was at first thought would prove fatal, but from which the victim may recover. The shooting occurred on the Trowbridge farm, three miles east of Belding.

Immediately after the shooting the elder man declared that his son, upon his refusal to give him some money he had asked for, drew a revolver from his pocket and fired, missing. Then he fired again, and this shot struck the father just below the left eye, taking a course downward, cutting off the tongue and lodging in the lung.

In the county jail John Trowbridge admitted the shooting. He said that when his father swore at him and grabbed him by the throat he became frightened and excited, seized the revolver, which was lying on a sewing machine, and fired.

Ann Arbor, Dec. 15.—Judge Kinne has issued a temporary injunction to Emma West against Russell J. West prohibiting him from selling certain property in Sylvan township. The injunction is obtained as a part of an answer to a cross bill filed in a suit begun last week by him.

He accuses her of nagging, refusing to care for the house or to live with him peaceably. He states also that she has threatened to poison him. She has filed her answer through her attorney dening the charges and has claimed that he has a wagging tongue also that he is in the habit of drinking.

It is claimed that West is worth from $6,000 to $10,000.

MAHARAJAH OF JAIPUR, GREAT INDIAN POTENTATE.

ONE of the most enlightened of the native Indian princes whose presence lends splendor to such stately ceremonials as the durbar is Sawai Madho Sing Bahadur, the maharajah of Jaipur. He is a wise and capable administrator of his dominion of some 15,000 square miles and takes a deep interest in all matters affecting the welfare of the British empire. He is princely in his benefactions, having subscribed 2,000,000 rupees toward the permanent Indian famine fund, and patriotic, too, from the British point of view, for he contributed 100,000 rupees for the Transvaal war fund. When he visited England for the coronation of King Edward he chartered a whole ship, and all eatables and drinking water for the period of his tour were brought from India. He was made an LL. D. of Edinburgh university in 1908. He is entitled to a salute of twenty-one guns.

AUTOMOBILES OF VISITORS CRASH

Exciting Time for Governors on Motor Speedway.

RAPID RUNNING CAR SKIDS

Governor Norris of Montana Is Only Man Hurt but Governor Carey of Wyoming, a Big Man, Is Badly Shaken Up.

Indianapolis, Dec. 16.—There was an exciting time on the motor speedway when a collision occurred between cars in which some of the visiting governors were seated, and those who saw the accident held their breath for a moment in horror.

A car running at the rate of forty miles an hour and containing as passengers Governor James Carey of Wyoming, Governor Norris of Montana and others skidded badly as it was being checked after racing around the speedway and ran into another car, which also was skidding on the slippery track. Both cars shot wildly off their course and some of the other governors and spectators who had already alighted from machines had to run for safety. To add to the excitement a tire of the first car exploded, making a loud report. No one was hurt except Governor Norris, who suffered a slight cut on one finger.

Governor Carey, who is a large man, was badly shaken up. A hasty examination showed that he was not injured. Governor Harmon of Ohio rushed up to the two governors to see whether they were hurt and found them all right. "This is certainly excitement enough," said Governor Harmon panting.

ADVERTISING "THE KING'S BUSINESS."

Rev. Charles M. Stelzle and other Presbyterians have recommended the setting aside of a specified amount by each church each year for the purpose of advertising the work of that church. We doubt not that other denominations have taken the same progressive ground. So long as it is no longer questioned that advertising gently is the fundamental requisite for success in commercial business, it is not easily seen why the same principles cannot be used with equal success in promoting "The King's Business."

The promotion of "The King's Business" is the justification for the existence of the church. For the promotion of it large sums are gladly contributed each year. The most profitable use of the funds raised is the practical problem. The local newspaper reaches proctically all the people of the community in which the church is to do the larger part of its work. The business man who belongs to the church doesn't rely on an occasional "news item" to make his business successful enough to support himself and family and help support the church. He takes a liberal amount of display advertising space year after year, in which to tell the people about the good things in his store. Why should he not council the same successful business methods for telling the people the good things about "The King's Business."

Very much just criticism of late is directed against the unscrupulous newspaper publishers who sell their space to quacks, fraudulent financial exploiters, patent medicine fakers and various kinds of parasites who toil not, but do "spin" their worthless yarns in the newspapers to the deceiving and damaging of the people. "Space" is about the only legitimate thing a newspaper publisher has to sell from which he can make any profit. We doubt if any newspaper publisher as a matter of choice would prefer to sell his space for the promotion of something which he thinks may be harmful to his readers.

It is apparent that the Christian Church can promote "The King's Business" in two ways by using advertising space in the newspapers:—by using recognized business principles in pushing the greatest "business" entrusted to mankind and in doing so by so much discouraging the success of the enemies of "The King's Business."

We have noted in this column from time to time illustrations we have noticed where this sort of advertising has been adopted. We noticed the following in the Daytona (Florida) Daily News. It is set two inches, double column, and this space is taken for the whole season, the intent being by frequent change of "copy" to keep the matter fresh, up to date and strictly "good adertising news." This ad immediately follows the theatre ad and is in a newspaper which admits liquor ads to its columns, although published in a county whose citizens regularly return it by large majorities to the "dry" column as often as the question comes up. This is the non-apologetic, self-respecting ad of this progressive Daytona church:

"'The King's Business' at the First Baptist Church, Palmetto Avenue, north of Volusia. This Church stands for Moral Purity, Civic Righteousness and the Prohibition of the Liquor Traffic. The Old Time Religion. Good Music. The Glad Hand. The church will be dedicated next Sunday, Dec. 7. Rev. S. B. Rogers, D. D., Sec. Baptist State Board of Missions, will preach morning and evening."

EDISON'S IDEA OF GREAT MEN.

TALKS OF THE LATTER'S CHOICE

Dodges a Verdict on the Ironmaster, Barring Poets, Edison Might Let Shakespeare In, Even Though He Was Not a World Mover.

Thomas A. Edison recently gave his idea of the greatest men of the world. He had prepared no list to compare with that recently given out by Andrew Carnegie. Mr. Edison said, but he made it clear that his idea of greatness differed materially from that of the steel man. There would be no poets in his list, only a few writers, and no discoverers other than those who hit upon their discoveries through the regular course of inventive experimentation.

"What do you think of Mr. Carnegie's list of greatest men?" he was asked.

"Well," the inventor replied, "there are a lot of iron men on that list. Quite natural. Every man in one particular line is narrow. President Taft's list, just like Mr. Carnegie's, would be different from mine. My list would be narrow too."

"Would you put Mr. Carnegie on it?"

"Too personal a question," he replied curtly. "Mr. Carnegie stands for rapid America, for great outputs. He has brought the steel business to a high grade, perhaps not as to quality, but as to output surely. His technical methods are great. If a man can take a 500 ton machine and get 16,000 tons of power out of it that is a great work; yes, that is greatness."

"Whom would you put on your list, and"—

"Gutenberg, Watt, Stephenson," replied the inventor quickly, not even waiting to hear the rest of the question.

"And Morse?"

"No."

"Any others?"

"Pasteur, a farreaching man."

"Any poets?"

"No; I don't think so."

"Any writers?"

"Yes, few, only a very few—Shakespeare, for his wonderful power in expression. But I do not think that he was a world mover.

"And Herbert Spencer, for the meat in his books. He was a great generalizer. He proved things by statistics. It was Herbert Spencer who showed that in every parliamentary body the resultant is always below the intelligence of the least intelligent man in that body. He took thirty-one acts of parliament relating to laws for the poor. He showed that thirty of them produced the opposite of what was intended. He based things on data. Spencer was a scientific thinker, and he was a good story teller too."

Mr. Edison would not name other great men he would include in his list. He talked freely, however, on his likes and dislikes and intimated that some of the men he liked might have the necessary qualifications.

"I can't give you any more right off the bat," he said. "I read Victor Hugo, for his poetical temperament. I like Bulwer and Charles Reade. I have read a few of the 'best sellers,' but I don't like them. I like the detective story. I like Emile Gaboriau better than Sherlock Holmes. I like Edgar A. Poe's prose works. Poe had a strange, unique ingenuity."

"Did you ever read dime novels, Mr. Edison?" one of the interviewers asked.

"Oh, yes, hosts of them," came the reply. "I like them. They don't make me think."

"Would you put Dr. Bell on your list?"

"No; he was not a scientist."

"Marconi?"

"I will say that I think that Marconi was a clever inventor. Very good. He was a practical man and is entitled to be called the 'father of wireless.'"

"Curie?"

"No; discovering radium is quite a different thing from inventing. Becquerel was the actual discoverer of it. Mme. Curie hit on Becquerel's discoveries. She was a laboratory expert. Discovery, an accident, is the basis of the finding of radium."

CHUBBY HAS A PAW BOWL.

He Uses It, Too, at a Fashionable Dinner on His Fifth Birthday.

Chubby, a small white poodle belonging to Miss Kathryn Hazel Wilson, an Atlantic City society girl, celebrated his fifth birthday with a dinner. His guests were all prominent in exclusive circles.

The dog sat at the head of the table on a silk pillow, wore a diamond studded collar, and his food was eaten from a solid gold and silver plate, the gift of Mrs. Arthur Payne, wife of Senator Payne. A gold bowl was also used by Chubby when the dinner was completed. The decorations were white carnations.

WILL ORGANIZE THE RED RACE.

Brotherhood of Indians to Be Formed by One.

WILL HAVE 200,000 VOTES.

Balance of Power Will Be Held In Several States, Projector Declares—Purpose to Obtain Rights Long Regarded Lightly by Officials of United States.

A movement has been started in Washington by friends of the Indian tribes, their descendants and those whose interests by intermarriage lie with the Indians for the formation of the Brotherhood of North American Indians. The movement is being directed by a full blooded Indian of education, a professional man resident in Washington, who does not care to disclose his identity at this time. Discussing the proposed brotherhood of his people, he said:

"It is our purpose to amalgamate the remnant of our race into a compact organization along the lines of self protection with a view of commanding and demanding justice at the hands of the national or federal government, to bring about a unity of our people in the exercise of the franchise as voters and fight for our rights at the ballot box, where our numbers can demand a hearing.

Hold Balance of Power.

"There is in seventeen states of the Union a voting population of full blooded Indians of 93,414. To this can be added 60,000 voters whose every interest lies with us by reason of intermarriage. Then there are 38,000 Indians who can become voters upon the payment of the poll tax. To those must be added 5,000 women of Indian blood in six states who by reason of the suffrage amendments to the constitutions of those states are entitled to vote. In the aggregate we have in the seventeen states nearly 200,000 voters, and it may surprise you and the country generally to know that by this vote when properly organized, as we intend it shall be, our people will hold the balance of power in those states, and through the method of our votes we can and will demand justice.

"The wrongs of the Indians and the continued paternalistic policy of the government, keeping our people in a state of pupilage and dependency, are the reasons why we are organizing. Our people frequently send delegation to Washington, but they never obtain what is justly due them. All business in which our people are interested is handled through the interior department, but is never treated seriously, and is looked upon as trivial matter.

Purposes of the Organization.

"The Dawes act of 1887 gave the Indians rights of citizenship. But Uncle Sam no sooner saw that this made the Indians more powerful than he straightway proceeded to limit these rights of freeborn Americans, and hence congress passed the Burke act.

"The objects of this brotherhood are to teach, obtain and maintain rights equal to that of any people; to preserve and perpetuate the ancient traditions, arts and customs; to promote and encourage industry and thrift; to preserve and to publish records, papers, documents and traditions of historical value and to mark by appropriate monuments places historic and sacred to the American Indian.

"With a perfected organization the time is not far distant when the Indian will be able to demand his rights and just dues from his guardian, Uncle Sam, and receive the same treatment that the white man receives, instead of being a humble supplicant at the feet of the government's representatives, as he is at present."

Life Beyond Death.

If we can say with Seneca, "This life is only a prelude to eternity,' then we need not worry so much over the fittings and furnishings of this ante-room, and more than that, it will give dignity and purpose to the fleeting days to know that they are linked with the eternal things as prelude and preparation.—Minot J. Savage.

THE TRUE TEST

Tried in Ypsilanti, it has Stood the Test.

The hardest test is the test of time, and Doan's Kidney Pills have stood it well in Ypsilanti. Kidney sufferers can hardly ask for stronger proof than the following:

A. D. Moore, 314 Oak St., Ypsilanti, Mich., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly a splendid kidney medicine and I do not hesitate one moment in recommending them. Pain in my back gave me considerable trouble and the secretions from my kidneys were irregular in passage. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Weinmann-Matthews Co.'s drug store, corrected these troubles. Whoever calls upon me to learn about Doan's Kidney Pills will always hear me speak highly of them." (Statement given Dec. 19, 1908.)

A Later Endorsement.

Mr. Moore was interviewed on September 20, 1911, and he said: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly as I did in 1908, for I have taken them occasionally since then and they have always proved satisfactory. I give this statement for the benefit of other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

YPSI MEN TRIM CHELSEA AND U. OF M. TEAMS

Friday night, on the local alleys, the Ypsilanti team met and defeated both Chelsea and the U. of M. team of Ann Arbor.

Through a misunderstanding in dates Chelsea and Ann Arbor both came on the same evening and it was up to the local boys to meet them both.

Chelsea was the first victim and the best rolling yet seen in Ypsilanti was produced in this match, Ypsi getting the high team score of 904 in the second game.

In the Chelsea match Zeigler made high score with 211 with Grimston right behind with 209 and an average of 188.

In the Ann Arbor game Ypsilanti gave them an awful beating in the first game but the hard evening's work began to tell and Ann Arbor reversed the beating with interest in the second game, but in the deciding game the locals were not to be denied and they were returned winners by 32 pins. In this match Hayden and Gordon tied for high score with 207 each while Hayden had high average with 188.

SPICY SPORT CHATS

By TOMMY CLARK.

When the attention of Frank Gotch, champion heavyweight wrestler, was called to the charge that his last victory over Hackenschmidt was a fake contest, he replied:

"It does not interest me that soreheads make statements which they cannot possibly substantiate. In any event, it is probable that I will permanently retire from the wrestling game within the next two months. In the meantime let the soreheads make all the accusations they please. My record will withstand their assaults."

Willie Hoppe now adds to his numerous distinctions the honor of being the heaviest "boy wonder" billiards has ever seen or is likely to see. This remarkable young cueist, who recently defeated George Sutton in New York is now twenty-four years old, but is putting on a girth that would fit an older man.

No official figures are obtainable, but Hoppe's intimates declare that Willie tips the beam at not much under 200 pounds. In spite of his increasing bulk Hoppe remains youthful in appearance, and most billiardists agree that the title of "boy wonder" still fits him well.

Hoppe stands today absolute and undisputed monarch of the billiard world. Judging by the easy manner in which he defeated Sutton, it seems that selecting a man to take away either his 18.1 or 18.2 title is impossible unless he loses an arm. With Sutton out of the way there is no one in sight to challenge him.

WILLIE HOPPE, CHAMPION 18.1 AND 18.2 BALK LINE BILLIARDIST.

Every time any major league club is on the lookout for a manager the name of Fielder Jones is sprung as a possible candidate for the job, and yet Jones has insisted for three years that he is out of the game and will never be identified with it again unless it be as the owner of a majority of the stock.

Recently some New York experts told their readers that Jones might succeed Chase. Jones came back with a denial and a reiteration of his retirement from the sport. It does appear to take a long while to convince some people that a ball player of reputation has retired.

Baseball fans all over the country are highly pleased over the fact that Hughie Jennings, the manager of the Detroit team, who was recently injured in an automobile accident in Scranton, Pa., is out of danger and will be out in a week or so.

Jennings' popularity is widespread. His congenial disposition, the fact that he is always good natured off or on the field, has undoubtedly made him the most popular man identified with baseball. Jennings strives to please, yet he is a strict disciplinarian, an ardent worker for the success of his team, but a fair and square rival, who always has the good wishes of hostile crowds wherever his team may appear.

Had it not been for the Detroit club, which gave Jennings a chance to show his ability as a manager, he would have been remembered as a brilliant player of a decade or so ago. But his engagement as the head of the Detroit team gave him the opportunity to show his ability in another line of the game, for today Jennings is counted among the most successful managers in baseball.

Chubby Cholly Murphy, president of the Chicago baseball club, favors open meetings of the National league presidents, and he is against this idea of having those men close their mouths when newspaper men are around.

It's about the wisest thing we've ever heard Chubby Cholly say. Baseball is absolutely dependent on publicity. Cut out the newspaper references to it and the sport would die.

There may come a day when baseball magnates will have to pay for every word printed in the papers. Such actions as this disbarring of newspaper men will hasten it.

Infectious Laughter.

Some of our prominent scientists are so impressed with the germ peril that they go around looking pretty solemn all the time, on the theory that laughter is both contagious and infectious.

Big C. B. C. Party.

One of the most successful parties of the season was given Thursday evening by Cleary College at Masonic Temple. The college pennants were used decoratively about the hall. President and Mrs. Cleary, Mr. and Mrs. Burgess of the faculty, LaVerne St. John, president of the senior class, and Miss Ruth Kloffenstein stood in the receiving line. Dancing, for which Kilian's orchestra furnished the music, began at half after eight, and the grand march was led by Mr. St. John and Miss Kloffenstein. A number of college alumni returned from out-of-town points to attend the party. Among the number were Mr. De Garmo of Clyde, Mr. O'Brien, Ann Arbor; Mr. Bowerman, Romeo, and Mr. Rickerhauser, Ann Arbor.

Good Paper on Alaska.

The Home Missionary society of the M. E. church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Alton Lewis. The attendance was good. A paper on Alaska by Mrs. H. D. Niblack. Among the interesting things her paper contained was that the home missionary societies have been importing reindeer into Alaska to take the place of dogs and to furnish a means of their supporting themselves. The ladies have collected money with which to buy a barrel of new clothing for a minister's family living in the northern peninsula. They expect to get it off in a few days.

Pleasing Program.

One of the pleasantest gatherings that the Ladies Literary club has had this season was the thimble party they arranged for Wednesday. While the ladies worked on Christmas gifts they listened to an Irish Noel sung by Miss Vivian Gilpin, to a Moszhowski number by Miss Whittelsey, and readings by Mrs. R. Clyde Ford from Zona Gale. In the ante-room, which was candle-lighted, simple refreshments were served.

"Bugs" Give Party.

Another in the series of dancing parties given by the "Bugs" was held at the Country Club Thursday evening. There were fifty couples present. The excellent musical program was furnished by Stone's orchestra of Detroit. A special car took the guests to and from the Country club. A number of out of town guests were present. This will be the last party of the series before the holidays.

Every Member Present.

Every member of the Jolly Farmers' club was present at the meeting held this week with Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Fletcher. After a delicious dinner had been enjoyed at noon, a literary and musical program was given. A part was taken by every member of the organization, as it customary in this flourishing club. The club will meet on December 28 with Mr. and Mrs. Archie Freeman on Oak street.

I. O. O. F. Box Social.

The Odd Fellows on Thursday evening gave a box social at their hall on Congress street. Readings and violin and vocal solos constituted the the very delightful program given. A fish pond afforded a chance for the usual run of fisherman luck among the company. Then the boxes of lunches were sold and between ten and eleven dollars was realized.

Make Xmas Stockings.

About thirty ladies of the Congregational church gathered for afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. B. L. D'Ooge on Thursday and, while Chrismas stockings were made for the Sunday school Christmas tree, planned for Dec. 23, Miss Whittelsey played and Mrs. S. W. George read some of Zoan Gale's writings.

Aid Members Plan Festival.

Only routine business was transacted at the meeting of St. Luke's Parish Aid except that it was decided to give a supper and have a sort of festival on January 6, in observation of the Epiphany.

Betty Brown's Letter

December 16, 1911.

Dearest Alice:

Cuddle up in your most comfy chair, honey, for this is going to be a long, long letter. From my window as I write, I can see the loveliest picture,—a misty stretch of hills and pine trees silhouetted against a sky all amethyst and gold.

Your letter this morning was corking, dear, but still it can't make up for the disappointment in not having you with us for the holidays. Can't you realize that I have been looking forward to your coming as anxiously as a yellow dog does for his master? It is two whole years since we parted on the wharf in New York and while we were in college a three months' separation was more than I could possibly bear without wearing crepe on my arm. You're a heartless creature to desert your old home for all these moons. I am brimming full of surprises and now, as a punishment, I shall surfeit you with detail.

We motored to Ann Arbor this afternoon and think of it, Alice, in my very own car, too. It's a FORD, 5-passenger Touring car with four doors. It was an intelligent purchase, for Dad has been keeping very close tab on all our friends' cars. Mr. Schaible of the SCHAIBLE-WIEDMAN AUTO CO. taught me to run the beautiful shining thing in one morning. You see, the control is very simple to operate. It starts on the magneto instead of on the batteries, and is therefore less expensie as there are no dry cells to buy. Even the headlights are operated off the magneto and that greatly reduces expense. Being light in weight, tires are smaller and we need fewer tires.

You'll never believe that fully equipped it cost only $690. That, of course, dug a hole in the money Aunt Jane left me at THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK. Leave it to wise old Aunt Jane to pick out the oldest, strongest and consequently the safest bank in town. A courteous official ushered me into a cozy little nook set apart for ladies and told me how a National Bank is examined twice a year by government officials and must make statements as called for by the Comptroller of the Currency five times each year. "Oh! I's getting brilliant I is."

Dorothy Farnum had us all in for tea today. Everything tasted so good after the cold drive. She is a charming hostess and possesses that rare art of doing things so easily that you can't feel its a bit of bother. Beside her on the table was a dear little Electric Toaster Stove. In a few minutes she served delicious crisp toast. Meanwhile water was boiled for the tea in a Liquid Heater. On our way home I stopped in the EASTERN MICHIGAN EDISON CO. and got one for grandmother. It is the most ideal thing imaginable for a sick room.

Now for the wonder of the wonders,—the Brown's have a new home and Alice, we are all so gorgeously happy in it we can't come to. You wouldn't blame me for raving if you could see how adorably artistic it is, Alice. Like Diogenes, I had my little lantern and went ransacking all over Ypsilanti for the best I could obtain. J. E. MOORE can suit me and you know what an unconscionable crank I am. Our dining room is the essence of hospitality, dear, you will love it. It is in early English, our living room is in fumed oak, and my room in golden oak. Dad bought Uncle Phil a big Comfy Morris Chair for Xmas—the new push button kind. Lucky Uncle Phil.

You poor child! You say you are just dizzy sick wondering what "under the canopy" to get people for Xmas. Everyone knows that shopping is the greatest joy I know of in this vale of tears and "owin' to me porfect judgment," my country relations have loaded me down with commissions, consequently I have bought with the madness of intoxication. For practical gifts CARPENTERS' is a revelation. The minute I saw the Casseroles in their attractive windows I said, that is just the thing for Aunt Polly to give. She is such an epicure. I once heard her say that food cooked in a Casserole lost none of its original delicious flavor. There were so many good looking Chafing Dishes it was hard to choose. My roving eye lit on one. I knew Ruth would love, a nickel plated one with a new alcolite burner. Even Aluminum Ware went on my order for Beth. She is to be married next month.

An I not in a caroling vein? Never mind, I can't be forever in this white heart of ecstacy. I am writing by the light of the most exquisite lamp. I had long been languishing at the artistic lamps at the YPSILANTI GAS COMPANY. Finally, I couldn't resist any longer and bought this one of Art Glass and Brushed Brass with panels for only $5.00. They have beauties at only $3.50. Did you know that gas could be lighted with only a chain? It is a wonderful invention for the globe never breaks.

Endless preparations have been been made for the house party. Everyone has accepted but you. Honey, can't you come? There will be a ball and two big dinners and the announcement luncheon at Ruths of "Lie still your beating heart." Betty Brown to Eric King. Maggie has already made some delicious compotes. When I praise her she says, "Shure, an' how could I cook without good stuff to cook with, darlin.'" She attributes all her success to C. KING & CO. They carry imported delicacies that no one in town carries like imported preserved ginger, Japanese Zuma, crabs for crab cocktails, pickled walnut meats and oh! such a lot of other good things.

Some are born clean, some acquire cleanliness and some have cleanliness thrust upon them. (With apologies to Billie Shakespeare). (Mother was born clean). It was up to Betty to sneak in at the stage door and appear behind the scenes after she had so cordial an invitation from MR. CLARK. His Bakery is as clean as a Dutch kitchen. "Truth is stranger than fiction," but there isn't a house-keeper in town who doesn't admit that CLARK'S Golden Loaf Bread is better than any they can make. He already has our order for Ice Cream in a rose design and Xmas Fruit Cake fit for an empress.

Saturday.

Dearie—I couldn't finish your letter yesterday. Grandmother was taken L'opera in Paris? That same old pasme to SMITH BROS.' CITY DRUG STORE with a Prescription. They certainly live up to their motto, "If it comes from Smith Bros.' City Drug Store, it is good." While I was waiting for it to be filled, it occurred to me that my Dorothy Vernon Powder was low. This powder doesn't make your face the least bit rough. Do get some Dorothy Vernon Royal Perfume—it is heavenly— and you will be forever grateful if you once use Jergen's Violet Glycerine Soap, Alice. It keeps your skin beautifully white and soft.

Do you remember how you used to drag me away from the millinery and lingerie shops on the Avenue D' quite ill, suddenly and mother sent sion still possesses me. You wouldn't blame me if you could see MISS SIMPSON'S feast of things,—darling Baby Sweaters, Kimonas, cunning Cashmere ones with hand embroidered for-get-me-nots, Bibs and Shoes and a dazzling array of Pin Cushions. She has just made me an evening hat that looks like a Parisian creation—white beaver with plumes and French flowers and so reasonable, too. Miss Simpson looks you over and then produces just the right sort of a hat.

Thanks for the compliments on my portraits, I'm so glad you like them. You said you loved the way I wear my hair. That is all due to SCHAD & GOODRICH. They surely have mastered their art. They make a careful study of the proportions of your face and dress the hair accordingly. They are treating my scalp by the new method—electricity passed thro the fingers, and it has grown amazingly. Father and the boys go regularly for manicures. Why shouldn't a man be as careful of his personal appearance as a woman. They made mother a beautiful switch from combings.

That is surely the place to go if you want to feel luxurious.

If you have survived this long screed, write soon.

Everyone here joins in wishing you all the Merriest Christmas possible. Oceans of love from,

Faithfully yours in rain or shine,
